Our old friend Mr. Robert Pratt, was in town yesterday. He has not been here since last December. In going home then he was taken seriously sick, and after lying in bed for a long time he has recovered his health and is now himself again. He is now in his seventy-seventh year. He and his wife, Miss Louisa J. Ellis, were married fifty-three years ago, and both are yet remarkably well preserved. They started life poor, but were rich when the war broke out, and are still in comortable circumstances. Their life furnishes worthy business man than Julia M. Visasika. Well, Mr. Editor, those of our citizens who attended the Conservative meeting at Abbeville on the 18th inst., were delighted with the speaking. Both Col. Orr and Maj. Murray made telling speeches. Then and there the meeting should have been adjourned, the desire on the part of the Tillmanites to the contrary notwithstanding. They should not have been permitted to fling a fire brand into our otherwise orderly and quiet meeting. Their methods are not our methods. It is true the howlers were in the minority, but enough were there to bring about disorder. Licensing Engineers.

The question of licensing engineers is being so aglated in every state in the Union that within a short time, for the protection of homan lives, it will be impossible for any one intrusted with steam to hold or secure a situation without passing a rigid examination and obtaining a license. Stephenson's Illustrated Practical Test has been published to aid engineers preparing to pass such examination; and as it embraces all the questions asked on the Boiler, Pump, Engine, Dynamo, Corliss Engine, &c., it has already met with such a demand that it is now in its fourth edition. This work, which only costs one dollar, can be obtained of the publisher, Walter C. Kraft, 70 La Salle Street, Chicago.

There will be no climbing the hil of the Lord without effort: no going to glory without the violence of faith. I believe that the ascent to heaven is If you have a bitter pill to take gulp still as Bunyan described it— a stair-tdown—dont chew it. So many peobe fought for.

A man who thinks to get to heaven by being honest and civil to his neighbor while ignoring his duty to God, is like the school-boy who thinks to get on well at home by having nothing to do with father or mother, but being very considerate to his school-fellows. Passionate reproofs are like medicines given scalding hot—the patient can not take them. If we wish to do good to those we rebuke, we should labor for meekness of wisdom, and use soft words for hard arguments.
